

Western Institute for Advanced Study

We will celebrate our research progress with a symposium-dinner on Sunday, December 10, 2023, at Spruce Restaurant in San Francisco. Speakers include:

Yasunori Nomura, PhD

Director, The Berkeley Center for Theoretical Physics, University of California

speaking on the role of theory and experiment in driving scientific progress

Izi Stoll, PhD

Scientific Director, Western Institute for Advanced Study

speaking on consciousness and neural computation

David Redish, PhD

Distinguished McKnight Professor of Neuroscience, University of Minnesota

speaking on how we perceive the world and make decisions

Amy Wachholtz, MA MS MDiv PhD

Program Director in Clinical Psychology, University of Colorado

speaking on how neuroscience research can improve mental health outcomes

The Western Institute for Advanced Study gratefully thanks our event sponsors:

CREATIVE VENTURES

MOSS ADAMS

flagstar

BENCHMARK WINE GROUP

The Western Institute for Advanced Study is a 501(c)3 non-profit organization dedicated to supporting theoretical scientific research and bridging our findings toward practical use, to make a positive impact on our society and our future:

Find out more about our research program and recent findings:

Find out how to support our next Grand Challenge:

